R & D Cell Activities:

A Paper entitled 'Panchayati Raj: A system which decentralizes the power and is an effective vehicle for smooth running of administration in the hands of the people' has been published. The students from Vikash Degree College namely Mrunal Kumar Meher (+3 final yr English Hon's) and Chhayakanta Sahu (+3 Final yr. Economics Hon's) under the guidance of Suraj Panda (Lecturer in Pol.sc) and mentorship of Dr. S.N.Panda (Director VGI) and Mr. R.C.Barik (asst. Prof. Dept of CST, VIT) successfully published a paper in the International Journal of Humanities and Social Science Invention (IJHSSI). The paper briefly discusses and studies the basic infrastructure facilities for the weaker sections and running of administration in the grass root level in the block of Barpali, Bargarh district.

A case study on Panchayati Raj in the block of Barpali

Abstract: Panchayati Raj is the system of local self-governance for villages which are an effective vehicle for people's participation in administration, planning and democratic process. These bodies which are genuine and effective democratic decentralized institutions, provide ample opportunities for a large number of rural people to take genuine and effective participation in the development and democratic decision making process, to infuse in the minds of the rural people is spirit of self-help, self-dependence and self-reliance. Panchayati Raj system provides basic infrastructure facilities and empowers weaker section of the society and aims at initiating democracy at the grass root level in India.
